Direct care roles These roles involve directly working with people who need care and support

Activities worker You'll organise social activities for people who need care and support, including trips out, entertainment and supporting people to take part.

Care worker You'll support people with all aspects of their day to day living, including social and physical activities, personal care, mobility and meal times.

Personal assistant You'll support an individual to live as independently as possible, usually in their own home or in the community.

Ancillary roles These roles don't involve direct care but are vital to the running of an organisation

Cook or kitchen assistant You'll prepare, cook and serve meals to people usually in a nursing or residential home, or in a day care centre.

Housekeeper or domestic worker You'll ensure that the environment in a residential home or sheltered housing is safe, tidy and clean.

Maintenance You'll carry out practical maintenance jobs, usually in a residential home or sheltered housing.

Administration roles including finance, HR and marketing You'll carry out administration tasks to support the organisation in finance, HR and marketing.

Management roles These roles involve managerial responsibility where you could be responsible for managing a small team or be the CEO of an organisation.

Team leader or supervisor You'll lead or supervise a team of care workers to ensure they provide high quality care and support.

Manager Depending on your level, you'll be responsible for the day to day running of the organisation, ensuring it meets standards and managing budgets and contracts.

Deputy manager or team manager You'll lead and manage the care team, helping them to deliver high standards across the organisation. You'll also play an important role in supporting the manager of the service.

Regulated professional roles These roles mean you have to be registered with a regulated body to practice. They require relevant qualifications which might include an undergraduate degree or diploma.

Social worker You'll offer counselling and advocacy to individuals and families, and intervene where vulnerable people need safeguarding.

Occupational therapist You'll work with people with physical, mental or social disabilities to help do everyday activities such as with physical rehabilitation or equipment for daily living.

Nurse \(including nursing associate\) You'll perform clinical tasks to people in a nursing home or in the community.
